

Seaside Library Foundation Auction Facebook/Online Auction Starts Wednesday August 5 and ends Tuesday, September 22.

Page on the web site:

2020 Anthology Authors, Character Bids, and Anthologies for purchase

We are pleased to share videos from some of our authors who share their writing experience as well as read a selection from their short story. Another feature is that you can bid to rename one of the characters in the story after a friend, family member, your dog or anyone! This is a fun way to honor someone. See each author to learn a bit more about the characters.

August 5-11

Alder, Bleeding by Jim Stewart

Author Jim Stewart starts Write On Seaside with his tale of a writer and an interaction with a state police officer.

BID You can bid to rename his character, Martin, the writer, for your favorite person or yourself! Bidding starts at $35 and ends August 11th at 5 pm. Other characters to bid on in coming weeks include a woman hosting a book club, a unicorn, a church elder and a real estate mogul-turned president. This character deadline is August 11th. Go to the Seaside Library Foundation Facebook page, or email seasidelibraryfoundation@gmail.com (email isn't live and so you might miss being the highest bid).

September 10

Author Robin Clear shares her memoir short story "Common Words"

Robin's memoir shorts have been published in magazines and anthologies around the country. She and her husband live in Rockaway Beach where he built a temple to her talents. She now combs the Northwest looking for new experiences to write about.

BID If you haven't already, be sure and bid to write the dedication to the 2020 Anthology to a friend, family member or even your dog. Go to the WRITE ON AUCTION listing from the Foundation's Facebook page.

BID There is also still time to bid on the Silent Auction items by Tuesday, September 15th. Just go to the SILENT AUCTION listing from the Foundation's Facebook page.

September 10

WRITE ON SEASIDE: A fundraiser by the Seaside Public Library Foundation showcasing local authors with a published anthology and Silent Auction.

Follow the Facebook page or go to seasidelibrary.org/Foundation for more information.

Author Ellis E. Conklin shares his short story, "Must Be Thursday" in the Library Foundation 2020 Anthology.

Ellis is a longtime newspaper journalist, who has earned the distinction of possessing a resume littered with newspapers (everyone he has ever worked for, in fact) that have gone belly-up over the past two decades – the Los Angeles Herald Examiner, United Press International, and the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, to name a few. Ellis and his wife, also a journalist from yesteryear, now shuttle (their 2-year-old Aussie named Piper in tow) between Seattle and their beach home in Manzanita.

BID If you haven't already, be sure and bid to write the dedication to the 2020 Anthology to a friend, family member or even your dog. Go to the WRITE ON AUCTION listing from the Foundation's Facebook page.

BID There is also still time to bid on the Silent Auction items by Tuesday, September 15th. Just go to the SILENT AUCTION listing from the Foundation's Facebook page.
